Influencing

- Identify 'gaps' in knowledge
- Fill those 'gaps' through association with our Thought Leadership Theme Groups
- Use the knowledge gleaned to influence change

Networking

- Access members and supporters from clients to contractors and consultants to suppliers in housing, building, infrastructure and FM
- Network through our series of clubs, Theme Groups, webinars, workshops and conferences
- Increase your personal profile and learning

Leadership

- Be recognised as an industry 'Thought Leader'
- Attend and/or sponsor a Leadership Dinner bringing together the 'movers and shakers' of the construction sector
- Be part of the movement positively disrupting the construction sector through collaborative working

Showcasing

- Take part in our annual awards to both market your 'best practice' projects, people and processes to clients and raise the morale of your own personnel
- Create case studies, advice notes and 'How-to' guides that promote your brand through association with CE
- Use the CE South West website / newsletter to advertise your products or services

Learning and sharing knowledge

- Meet with like-minded forward thinking people from across the supply chain
- Understand and create 'best practice'
- Meet without commercial constraints

Tools and techniques

- Access to an increasing number of 'Best Practice' and 'How-to' guides
- The ability to be part of the team that creates the above
- Early access to learning material e.g. Diploma in Smart Collaboration, Clients Commitments Best Practice Guide etc.
